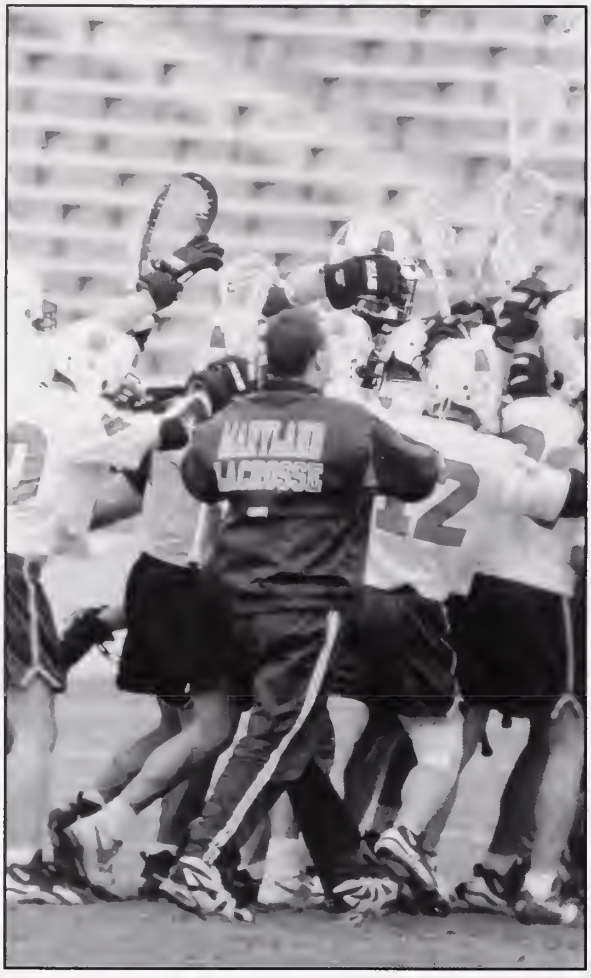
The 1997 University of Maryland Men's Lacrosse Media Guide was written, edited and designed by Dave Gell, Assistant Media Relations Director. Co-Editors: Andy "Sully" Krauss and David "OB1" O'Brian. Photography by Lisa Helfert. Cover design and printing by Chroma Graphics in Landover, Md. Special thanks to Chuck Walsh, Tricia Harris, Mark Ragonese , Nicole Hawkins and the Maryland coaching staff for their assistance. Dedicated to the memory of two all-time Terps-- joseph f. blair and Dr. Stan Lavine.

1997 Outlook



As the 1997 Maryland Terrapins embark on another exciting lacrosse season, they must first answer the question the entire nation is asking; "Is their life after losing two-time National Goalie of the Year, Brian Dougherty ?"

Actually, this year's squad returns a lot more than it has lost. Four 1996 All-Americans will start for a squad that has added valued depth to its attack, midfield and defense. Ranked fifth in the pre-season by the sport's premiere publication, Face-Off Magazine, Head Coach Dick Edell is optimistic that this, his 25th year of coaching, may materialize as his most rewarding.

Maryland also has a huge advantage in hosting the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championships as well as the Quarter Finals. The Terps face the possibility of playing all their games in Byrd Stadium for the final month of the season.

Attack

Maryland's attack is its strongest position. The unit returns all three starters, including two Honorable Mention All-Americans in Matt Hahn and Andrew Whipple. Senior co-captain Peter Hilgartner will provide big-game experience. The second line will be led by Scott Hochstadt, who surged to the forefront at 1996's conclusion to make the All-ACC Tournament team. Newcomer Chris Selario's left-handed shooting rounds out a fine young group who will thrive off of one another's unselfishness.

Midfield

This is the Terps' most improved unit from 1996. The coaching staff can rest easier knowing it has two solid lines. Led by Second Team All-America Todd Evans and his amazing dodging abilities, combined with the addition of converted attackman Maury LaPointe, Maryland's middies will fill the net with increased frequency. Starter Frank Radin hopes to add to the memories of last year when he scored a career-high three goals to help defeat rival Johns Hopkins. Brian Zeller leads an impressive second unit. Zeller, who has completely recovered from a broken foot that forced him to miss his true freshman season, played like a man possessed in fall ball. The Terp coaching staff will also look to Eric Osberg, who earned Maryland's Co-Outstanding Rookie of the Year Honors, to shoot more often. In addition, face-off specialist Chris Nohe is the leading returning face-off man in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Defense

Two words describe this threesome: big and physical. Senior Dave LaChapelle, a returning Third Team All-American, spearheads the starting defensive unit that averages 6-2 and 188 pounds. Transfer Chris Lamy, who stands at 6-5, 205 pounds, was a member of last year's 19 and under team that captured the World Championship. Lamy and junior co-captain Mike Bonanni complete the starting defensive unit that resembles a human China Wall. Coach Edell has also recruited what he considers his best ever defensive class. The newcomers will see considerable minutes as the season unfolds. Maryland's momentum, both for the season and individual games, will begin and end with its defense.

Goalie

The stopper is the biggest unknown for the 1997 squad. The player who inherits the starting role must fill the unenviable shoes of replacing All-American Brian Dougherty. Sean Keenan projects as the next goalkeeper after seeing limited action last season. If Keenan can make the expected saves, the Maryland Terrapins will be a serious contender for the national title.

Head Coach Dick Edell

Dick Edell embodies Maryland lacrosse. Entering his 25th year of coaching and 14th at the Terp helm, Edell commands and receives 100% effort from his players. Affectionately referred to as "Big Man", his most brilliant lacrosse mind has left a permanent impression on the program's rich history.

He led the Terps to their sixth consecutive NCAA Tournament, second to only former Terp Head Coach Buddy Beardmore who led the Terps to eight consecutive tournament appearances from 1971-78. Edell has led Maryland to nine overall NCAA births during his College Park tenure, including an impressive four "Final Four" appearances.

Edell was the mastermind behind the greatest upset in the 26-year history of the NCAA men's lacrosse championships. The Terps defeated then No.1-ranked and previously undefeated Johns Hopkins 16-8 to advance to the 1995 national final before the largest crowd in the history of the sport.

He has also captured three Atlantic Coast Conference championships, which is unquestionably the premiere lacrosse conference in the nation. Maryland won the ACC crowns in 1985, 1987 and 1989 under his tutelage.

His career record stands at 224-102 (.687) at the inception of the 1997 season. He is the only individual in the program's history to post 100 victories at Maryland. He boasts a 113-55 (.673) record as the Terps' head man. He has led Maryland to six ten-win seasons, including a school record 12 victories in 1987 and 1995. In fact, the Terps have never had a losing season under his reign.

Regarded as one of the best tactical minds in the game, Edell thrives on adjusting to opponents on game day. Last year, Maryland outscored its 13 opponents 93-49 in the second half.

Year after year, he attracts top caliber recruits. Under Edell, 29 Maryland players have been named to the First, Second or Third Team All-Americans. Five of his student-athletes have won Player of the Year recognition at their respective positions, while eleven Terps have been selected to the prestigious First Team All-America list.

His reputation as a phenomenal coach is not a local secret. He has won two National Coach of the Year honors, 1978 and 1995. The ACC also selected him as its top coach in 1989 and 1992.

Edell came to Maryland in 1984 after seven tremendously successful seasons with Army. He compiled a 66-24 record with the Cadets (.733) and helped them to four NCAA appearances. He served as President of the United States Lacrosse Coaches Association during his final year at West Point.

He broke into the profession at the University of Baltimore in 1973. During his time with the Retrievers, he posted a 45-23 (.662) record.

As a player, he was a two-time All-American while graduating with a BS in Physical Education. He earned a Master's Degree in Education from Western Maryland in 1970 and another Master's Degree in Science from Baltimore University in 1976.

The 53-year old Edell and his wife, Dolores, are the proud parents of four children: Lisa, 27, Krissy, 24, Gregg, 19, and Erin, 12. Lisa and Krissy are both Maryland graduates.

Assistant Coaches

Dave Slafkosky

Assistant Coach
Defensive Coordinator

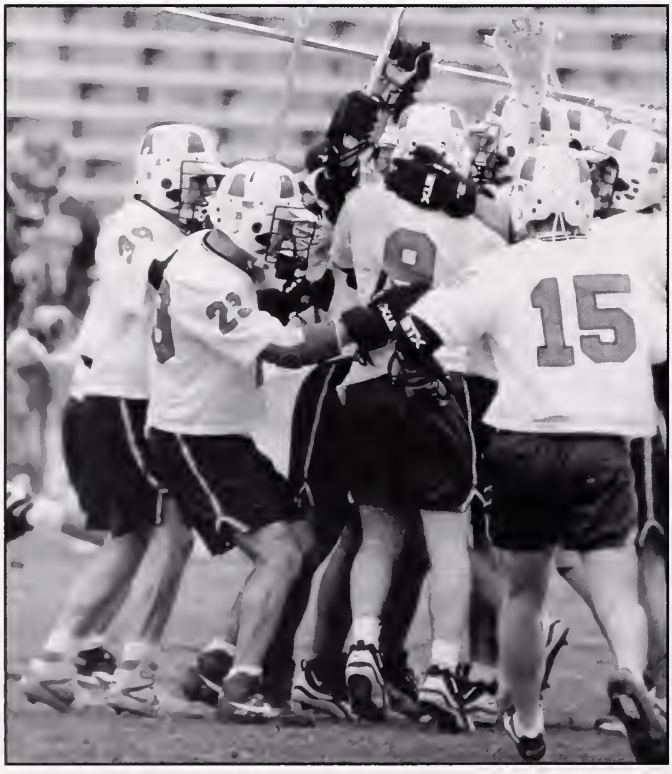
Dave Slafkosky and Dick Edell celebrate their 20th year together as they embark upon the 1997 season. When Edell came to Maryland, his only request was that "Coach Slaf" joined him. Granting Edell's only request was a critical decision that ensured unprecidented success for the university.

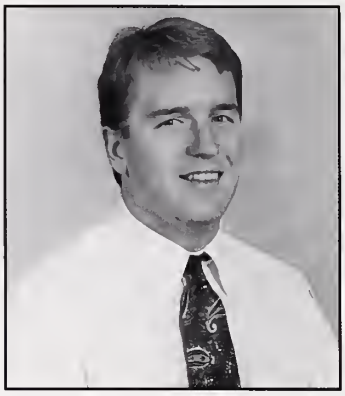
When Slaf joined the Terps in 1984, he was named the offensive coordinator. After leading Maryland to Final Fours in 1987 and 1989, Edell challenged his old friend to take over the defensive reigns in 1991.

Without missing a beat, the Terps would soon experience the same success on defense with Slaf at the wheel. Maryland would return to the Final Four in Slaf's first year with the defense. That year, Brian Burlace was named a Second Team All-American. Under Slafkosky's tuteledge, Burlace would go on to win National Defenseman of the Year honors in 1992. Dan Radebaugh equalled that task in 1995.

A 1974 graduate of Johns Hopkins University, Dave led the Blue Jays to a national championship as a midfielder.

Dave and his wife, Michelle, have four children: Daniel, 16, Sarah, 13, Kevin, 9, and Alex, born on Christmas Eve of 1990.





Scott Marr

Assistant Coach
Offensive Coordinator

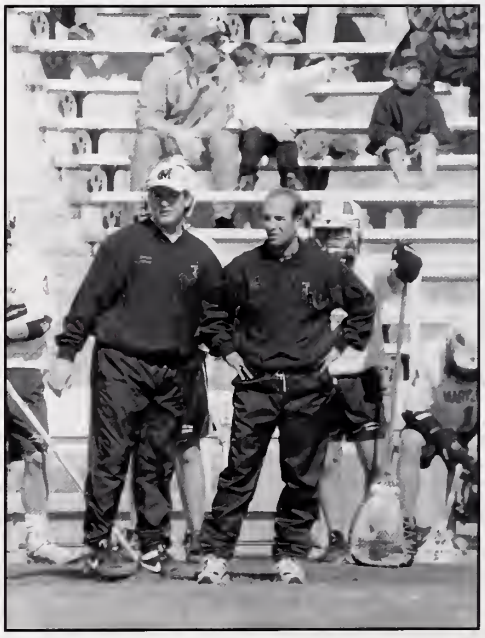
Scott Marr's youthful enthusiasm energizes the Maryland offense. Entering his third year at Maryland, the Terps have witnessed unparalled offensive success since he joined the staff.

In his first year at College Park, the Terps shattered the school's offensive record books. Maryland found the net a school record 235 times that year. Marr coached Kip Fulks and Rob Chomo to Second Team All-America status in 1995. Last year, Matt Hahn and Andrew Whipple earned Honorable Mention All-America honors under Marr's watchful eyes.

The highlight of Marr's coaching career took place in Byrd Stadium in 1995. Coaching against Johns Hopkins, his alma mater, Maryland outscored the No.1-ranked and previously undefeated Blue Jays, 16-8, for the biggest upset in the history of the NCAA tournament. The Terps doubled-up one of the most prolific Johns Hopkins squads ever amassed.

He also coached against his brother, David, his first two years. David set the Johns Hopkins record for career assists and graduated in 1996.

Scott earned his B.S. in Economics and History in 1991. His wife of four years, Traci, gave birth to their first child two days after Princeton captured the 1996 title in Byrd Stadium. Kyle Marr was born on May 29th and is already slated as a starting Terp attackman in the year 2015.



Scott Marr and Steve Beardmore analyze the action.

Meet The Co-Captains

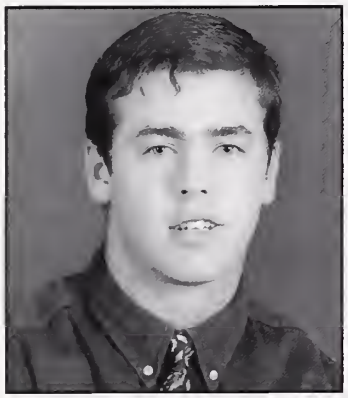
No. 27 Mike Bonanni

Defense
Jr.*, 6-0, 160
Davidsonville, Md.
High School: DeMatha

Becomes the first Terp under Edell to be named captain as an underclassman...An outstanding student-athlete who achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average for the 1996 fall semester...He has done everything asked of him by the coaching staff... Converted to short pole out of high school and started every game as a redshirt freshman...Adapted once again last year to close defense and quickly displayed tremendous riding skills... Plays with an aggressiveness and intensity that Maryland demands of its defensemen...Played in all 29 games his first two seasons...Scored his only career goal versus Cornell in 1995...High school teammate of Trevor McNemar...Will earn his undergraduate degree in business in May and pursue a post-graduate career in Maryland's business school next year.

At DeMatha: Helped Stags win the 1991 and 1990 Metro Conference Lacrosse Titles...Was All-Conference and All-County all four years...Earned four letters while serving as captain his junior and senior years...Ranked in top ten of class of 200 with 3.8 GPA...Member of "Who's Who of High School Students."

Personal: Born 5/12/75. Mike is the son of Kathleen and Benny Bonanni.



No. 42 Peter Hilgartner

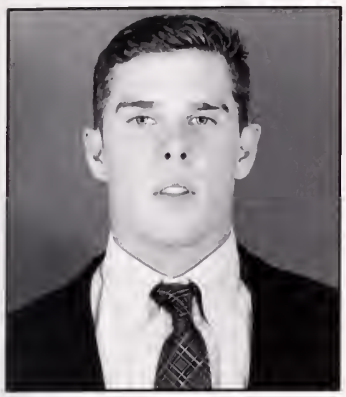
Attack
Sr., 5-11, 171
Lutherville, Md.
High School:
Calvert Hall

Three-year letter winner and starter at attack and 1997 Co-Captain...A one-on-one specialist who thrives on backing in on his defender to get his shot off or feed a teammate...Possesses superior stick protection skills that enable him to attack the cage from either side...With attention drawn by All-America attackmen Matt Hahn and Andrew Whipple, opposing defenses often pay assigning a short pole on this courageous attacker...Separated his shoulder versus Johns Hopkins in the 1996 regular season and missed the ACC tournament and final two games of the regular season...Returned for NCAA Tournament, but reinjured shoulder in valient comeback...Eight career multiple-goal games, including four hat tricks...Named ACC Player of the Week March 19 after netting three goals and adding one assist versus Cornell last year...In five NCAA games he has scored 12 points on seven goals and five assists...Came off the bench in the 1995 NCAA Semifinals and scored a hat trick to help defeat previously unbeaten and No. 1-ranked Johns Hopkins for the greatest upset in the 26-year history of the NCAA Tournament...Considered the jewel of the 1994 recruiting class...Grew up the road from Johns Hopkins' Homewood Field.

At Calvert Hall: Named Honorable Mention All-Metro by the Baltimore Sun in 1993 and 1992 and second team by the Towson Times and the Messenger...An honor roll student.

Personal: Born 7/31/75. Pete is the son of Anne and Charles Hilgartner...Brother, Andy, played at Michigan State and Rife at Whittier College.

Peter Hilgartner: The senior attackman thrives on the big game.



No. 9 Todd Evans

Midfield
Sr., 5-10, 172
E. Rockaway, NY
High School: Kellenburg

The First Team All-America candidate proved he is one of the best dodging midfielders in the country after earning Second Team All-America honors in 1996...His stick protection skills are unmatched...His ability to score will be one of the keys if Maryland is to bring home a national championship...13 goals in 1995 was third best on the team...Has posted two career hat tricks, including a career-high four goals versus UMBC last year...Netted three goals versus then No.1-ranked and undefeated Johns Hopkins in the 1995 NCAA semi-finals to help lead the Terps to the greatest upset in the 26-year history of the tournament...Played fall ball with a sense of urgency and fire in his eyes...His unmatched skills and new found determination make him the greatest dodger Dick Edell has ever coached.

At East Rockaway: Captained both the lacrosse and basketball teams his senior year, earning three letters in each sport...An All-League lacrosse pick his final two seasons...Also an All-League selection in basketball his sophomore year while leading his team to a 21-2 record and earning MVP of the championship.

Personal: Born 10/16/75. Todd is the son of Doreen and Martin Evans.

No. 32 Matt Hahn

Attack
Jr., 6-1, 187
Olney, Md.
High School:
Georgetown Prep

One of the most remarkable goal scorers in Maryland lacrosse history, Hahn has scored at least one point in every game of his career and led the Terps in goals scored each of his first two seasons...His consecutive point scoring streak stands at an impressive 29 games entering this season..An Honorable Mention All-American as a sophomore, he is a strong contender for the first or second team this year...He posted multiple- goal games 22 times, including 13 games with three or more goals...His great shooting ability is accompanied by impressive strength...He utilizes his strength to hold on to the ball for an extra second, improving his shooting angle or placing himself in a better scoring position...A defense has not been able to stop him because he recognizes double teams almost before they happen...36 goals in 1995 was the 12th best single season effort in school history...33 goals in 1996 was fifth best in the powerful ACC...His unselfishness with assists also leads to easy scoring chances for his teammates...Scored a single-game high six points versus Carolina last year on four goals and two assists...Perhaps his greatest quality is his lack of concern for his own statistics...Comes from a family rich in lacrosse tradition; his grandfather Ben Goertemiller, a four-year all-star midfielder for the Terps and 1956 graduate, was also a great player/coach for the Mt. Washington Club team.

At Georgetown Prep: Selected by the Washington Post to the All-Metropolitan First Team his senior and junior years...The Montgomery Journal also placed him on its All-League team both of his final two years...The 1993 lacrosse squad was co-champions of the I.A.C., compiling a 14-1 record...A four-year letterman in both lacrosse and soccer...He captained both teams his senior year...Captured All-League honors in soccer in 1994 and 1993...The soccer team won the I.A.C. championship two years in a row, 1991 and 1992...Earned academic First Honors three times and Second Honors ten times.

Personal: Born 4/20/76. Matt is the son of Susan Byrne and Robert Hahn.

Todd Evans: The artful dodger.

Meet The All-Americans

No. 6 Dave LaChapelle

Defense
Sr., 6-2, 197
Severna Park, Md.
High School: Severn School

Selected Third Team All-American last year; bonafide First Team All-America candidate as a senior...His first career goal last year was a memorable one as he scored the game winner at Johns Hopkins on an end to end run...His 6-2, 200-pound frame casts an imposing shadow on opposing attackmen who attempt to set up camp around the Maryland crease...Despite being soft spoken he led the 1995 squad with 17 penalties for 12.5 minutes, an indication of his role as the Terps' enforcer...Younger twin brothers Brian and Marcus make the LaChapelles the first family in Maryland lacrosse history to have three brothers on one team...Spent the fall in British Columbia taking a National Outdoors Leadership course...The rejuvenated defenseman should resume right where he left off...His absence in the fall granted the highly regarded defensive class additional practice time.

At Severn School: Selected All-County his final two seasons...Won team MVP and Team Player Award his senior year...Won All-County football honors as well...Captained the lacrosse team...Earned five letters, three in lacrosse and two in football.

Personal: Born 06/11/75. Dave is the son of Molly and Bud LaChapelle...His twin brothers, Marcus and Brian, are Terp freshmen...

No. 1 Andrew Whipple

Attack
Jr., 5-10, 170
Rochester, NY

The University of Maryland at College Park

PICTURE a university so comprehensive that if offers degrees in 98 disciplines, so technologically advanced that it manages specially-designed research facilities not found on any other campus in the country and boasts a telecommunications system which serves as a model for universities worldwide. And, at the same time, it is a university concerned enough to include special housing matched to student interests and to ensure that half of all undergraduate classes have fewer than 30 students. That's a snapshot of the University of Maryland at College Park, the flagship institution of Maryland's system of higher education.

Academic Stature: One of only 30 public research universities in the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities; among fewer than 10 percent of universities invited to join Phi Beta Kappa.

Baccalaureate Choices: Degrees offered in 98 disciplines; pre-professional programs in dental hygiene, dentistry, law, medical technology, medicine, nursing, optometry, osteopathic medicine, pharmacy, physical therapy and pediatric medicine.

Dramatic Moments: Find them in the 1,350 seat Tawes Theater, the stage for major theatrical productions and special events.

Faculty Facts: Full-time, 1,998; part-time 544; student/faculty ratio, 14/1.

Getting There: The MARC train offers public transportation from College Park to Baltimore's Camden Station, next to Orioles Park at Camden Yards and near the Inner Harbor. The highly efficient Metro system puts the Suburban Maryland, District of Columbia and Northern Virginia areas a rapid transit system ride away from College Park.

Ideas: More than 100 active patent disclosures by university inventors are managed by the Office of Technology Liaison.

Journalist's Pick: The College of Journalism was selected as one of two sites in the U.S. for the Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program, and named one of the nations' top communications programs by the Gannett Center for Media Studies.

Library Holdings: Largest academic research library system in Washington metropolitan area. There are 2.8 million volumes in libraries and 4.6 million items on microfilm.

Nationally Noted: A dozen academic departments and programs at College Park are placed in top 10 among U.S. public universities by the National Academy of Sciences.

Neighbors: Campus neighbors include the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institutions, the National Institutes of Health, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Center. On campus is National Archives II.

U.S. News and World Report Finds: The Department of Computer Science ranks 12th in the nation, beating three Ivy League schools, and the Department of Physics is 13th best, ahead of UCLA and Pennsylvania among others. The Public Relations Graduate Program is the #1 program in the country. The College of Business and Management is considered 14th in student selectivity.

Value Added: College Park is included in the Guide to 101 of the Best Values in Colleges and Universities, published annually by the Center for College Enrollment Studies.

Maryland in statistics compiled by the National Research Council (NRC) ranked 18 of the graduate programs as "strong" or "excellent".

Maryland according to the NRC ranked among the 10 best public universities in Computer Science, Physics, Mathematics, Electrical Engineering, Economics and Oceanography.

Maryland's College of Journalism was ranked by the Gannett Foundation as one of 11 exemplary programs nationally.

Maryland was chosen by Money magazine as one of the 100 "Best Buys" nationally.

Maryland was one of only nine top-ranked honors programs in Ivy League Programs at State School Prices.

Maryland ranked eighth in the nation in number of Fulbright Scholarships awarded (28 in 1994-95).

Maryland is in the top three of non-historically black institutions in number of African Americans receiving bachelor's degrees.

Maryland is second in the U.S. among non-historically black institutions in number of African-American graduates who go on to earn doctorates, according to the National Research Council.

Maryland won the 1996 Boeing award for most outstanding engineering education program in the nation.

1,568 student-athletes named to Scholar Athlete Honor Roll (3.0+ GPA) in last decade.

1995 overall athletic graduation rate, 68%, exceeds overall University graduation rate (66%), and has increased from 55% in 1991 (students entering in 1984-85).
